SCHOOL BOARD EXPECTS LOWER RUNNING COSTS

Will Try to Economize Sufficiently to Offset State Law Salary Increases

BUDGET REMAINS SAME

Board in Reorganization Approves $125,000 Budget for Ensuing Year

An effort to cut running expenses of Bismarck schools materially will be made by the board of education it was stated today following the annual reorganization meeting of the board held last night.

With an increase of $12,000 in salaries made by state law the board will endeavor to make up this added expense by decrease in other expenses it is explained by board members. The budget will not be cut however remaining at $125,000 according to present plans.

The board expects decreased cost of coal and other materials and the elimination of some building costs paid out of the general fund last year to offset the increase in salaries.

The school budget has increased rapidly in the last few years. For the year ending July 1, 1920 the expenses of the schools were $103,000. The budget on which the last tax levy was figured was $125,000 and the tax levy will be about the same under the new budget.

According to board members the salaries will increase from $72,000 to $85,000 under the state minimum wage for teachers law passed by the last session. Under the new law however school is cut to nine months.

There will be no building program at all next year it is stated. Some repair work is being done this summer. Officers of the board were re-elected as follows: President George M. Will, Secretary Richard Penwarden, Treasurer John Larson. Members of the board in addition to Mr. Will, are E. V. Lahr, D. T. Owens, G. F. Dullam, A. P. Lenhart.

LARGE NUMBER ON DAIRY TOUR

Many Bismarck Rotarians and Burleigh Farmers Go

With banners flying more than twenty-five automobiles of Rotarians left Bismarck early today on the New Salem dairy demonstration tour. Between 50 and 75 farmers of Burleigh county were guests of the Rotarians and a number of farmers joined the party in their own automobiles.

A large party of Mandan business men and Morton county farmers with the Mandan band left that city for New Salem. Delegations from all over the Slope country and a number from the Red River valley joined at New Salem for the inspection of the famous Holstein circuit.

A jazz orchestra was taken by local Rotarians.

Cars From East

Approximately 50 cars from eastern North Dakota which gathered at Fargo and started from there spent last night in Mandan. Small parties from north and south of Mandan concentrated there early this morning and the road to New Salem was lined with passenger cars carrying people from many sections.

A special Red Cross repair automobile was provided by the Mandan Commercial club for use on the trip. The tour idea originated with Max Vorgan of the extension department of the state agricultural college. He formerly was county agent of Morton county. He had witnessed how the farmers around New Salem who had gone into dairying with blooded stock had succeeded when others were in debt from crop failure and he decided to spread the story throughout the state.

A large number of the tourists were to inspect the United States Northern Plains experimental station south of Mandan also. The tour of the 17 farms on the New Salem Holstein circuit was expected to be completed by p. m. and a banquet was to be served in New Salem.

GAMBLERS WERE TRICKED, SAYS WITNESS BURNS

Tells Jury Hearing White Sox Players Case That They Didn't Get Any Money

DESCRIBES THIRD GAME

Chicago July 20.—The Chicago White Sox players after agreeing with a clique of gamblers to throw the 1919 world series to Cincinnati for $100,000 became sick of the deal when they were not paid the bribe, promised and at a meeting before the third game decided to play the series and win the series. Bill Burns, a witness in the case, testified to this effect today in the federal court. He testified that the alleged fix was to win the third game by giving the batting order to the gamblers and they had to throw two regulars, Fred Williams and would not win at a number Dick Kerr. Burns said then feeling they had been tricked, they crossed their arms by doing this when they would lose the third game, but instead won it to with Dick Kerr pitching.

Burns then told how he conferred with Ben Johnson, a player of the American league and a Chicago Corridor assistant state attorney, about this case. He said he came home very angry and had received no promises or compensation after that his expenses which were paid by Johnson. Burns then was turned over to the defense for cross-examination.

Lakeside School District Files Suit Against Bank of North Dakota

The Lakeside school district No. 41 of Kidder county has filed suit against the Bank of North Dakota for $2,000 on which payment was refused June 20, 1921, according to the complaint filed in district court. The commissioners asked that a judgment be granted to the school on specific funds and that in case said funds are unable to produce and tender in court the specific funds or to replace them that the court appoint a receiver to take charge of said defendant (Bank of North Dakota) and that said defendant be declared insolvent and that plaintiff have such other and further relief as may seem necessary and just.

Hormel Describes Affairs to Bankers at Gathering Held in Chicago

Austin, Minn., July 20.—Defalcations of R. J. Thomson, former comptroller of George A. Hormel & Company, totals $1,189,000, according to final figures made public here today.

Austin, Minn., July 20.—R. J. Thomson, as comptroller of George A. Hormel & Company, local packers, embezzled $1,189,000 from that concern according to final figures announced today on which received from Chicago, where creditors of the company are in conference.

Clarence Nockelby, president of the local butchers union, issued a statement today denouncing the full and complete prosecution of Thomson, charging that his activities had imperiled the employment of every butcher in the Hormel plant.

They "Told You So"

Austin, Minn., July 20.—Now that Thomson's bubble has burst, there are more than a few "I told you so's" than there were a few years or months ago, and the question frequently asked in Nowhere county, "Where did Thomson get his money?" has answered itself.

Austin for months was astonished at the munificence of R. J. Thomson. He has purchased and established a Holstein farm near Blooming Prairie valued at $250,000. In 1919 he opened the great Oak Dale Farms in Leroy. He bought a house in Austin, Tex., and when he had completed it he resided there. He bought other city property and constructed apartment houses. He purchased high priced autos.

With all that Thomson was the best entertainer in the part of the country. His friends were invited to his farms were royally entertained. They could not spend a cent, as they were Thomson's guests. His employees worshipped him. He was a (Continued on Page Seven)

FACTS FOR THE CITY TAXPAYERS

Nothing but indifference on the part of the voters will prevent a complete expression upon the $30,000 bond issue next Tuesday. As The Tribune has said before, it is not so much the amount involved in this specific issue, but the election should afford a test vote upon the attitude of the people toward an additional increase of taxes at this time.

With a bonded indebtedness of more than a million dollars and the entire nation going through a period of adjustment and deflation few people are suggesting anything that will occasion an increase in public expenditures.

Usually when a bond issue is proposed here has been issued a complete statement of the city's finances. In the absence of any such information from official circles The Tribune has gone to the records as well as it could for figures that would indicate to the voters the extent of the city's indebtedness.

To detail expenditures and to give comparative budgets for a period of years would entail considerable research work. If this data were available The Tribune is sure that its arguments against any more bond issues or increased city budgets at this time could be founded to an even greater degree.

Just be in mind that the election is next Tuesday. You vote at the regular polling places and the booth will be open until 4 p. m.

GIPSIES PREDICT GOOD LUCK BUT YOUNG MEN FIND FORTUNE IS BAD

Find Money Missing From Pocketbooks After Fortune is Told— Luck Turns Again When Police Help Them to Recover Money—Gypsies Sent Out of Town

A couple of gypsies told for lures of two young men in Bismarck yesterday.

"She called the turn wrong said one. She said I'd have good luck but I had bad luck."

The bad luck dawned forcibly upon the young man when he opened his pocketbook after his fortune had been told and found $5 missing. The other young man's luck was the same.

The story was told before Police Magistrate Cashman.

One of the gipsy women approached a young man in a confectionary store and asked to tell his fortune. He gave her 25 cents to do so. The other gipsy woman told the fortune of a young man in a restaurant. Their methods were the same.

"Must hold your money in my hand while I tell your fortune," said one.

One young man gave her a $20 bill and a $5 bill to hold. The other gave her two or three bills.

The fortune told she handed the money back, and told him to put it in his pocket without looking and keep it there 20 minutes else the fortune would not come true.

The young man was curious. He couldn't wait quite 20 minutes. He found a five-cent missing and started on a hunt for police. The other young man who had the same experience joined. The two women were brought before Judge Cashman.

The judge fined them $10 each. They said they couldn't pay. He offered them free lodging. Then the man with the party came in. He protested he could pay but one fine but he went out and brought back money to pay the second. The women gave back the money to the young men.

The judge gave them 10 minutes to leave town. One of the women screamed she would make it back telling fortunes before leaving town but policemen trailed her to the outskirts where another car was waiting.

There were two families in the party, with a number of children. They traveled well, having two light Dodge trucks fitted up comfortably.

GOOD CROPS IN MANY SECTIONS ARE REPORTED

Many sections of western North Dakota having received beneficial rains at the right time will have crops well above the average.

M. B. Gilman has returned from a trip north of Bismarck in which he touched several Sheridan and McLean county towns. Around McClusky, Denhoff, Mercer and Little Lake he found crops good and farmers much encouraged. "Not only will there be a good wheat yield but corn is excellent."

Dr. Moses, of Hazen who was in the city yesterday said that crops are fine in that section. The wheat harvest starts this week. The north half of Oliver county and west and northwest from there will have better than an average yield he said.

STATE AGENTS HUNTING DOWN S. D. RADICALS

"Watchful Waiting" Role Assumed in Western Part of The State

Pierre S. D. July 20.—With nine special agents doing patrol duty in the towns where disorders have occurred or riding freight trains searching for agitators, State Sheriff John Shanks has assumed the role of watchful waiting, ready to hasten to any part of the state and to deprive whatever number of men would be necessary in case serious trouble should be stirred up by the law radicals among the hordes of farm laborers who are pouring into the state from southern fields.

Two shootings, one at Wolsey which resulted in the death of William Henderson of Austin, Tex., and the other at Milbank in which Harry Owen of Wheaton, Ill., was seriously wounded, both of which are alleged to have been committed by I. W. W. members have tended to crystallize sentiment in all parts of the state. Communications from county attorneys and sheriffs local authorities and citizens have been received at the governor's office by the attorney general and state sheriff asking that provisions be made to cope with what appears to be a condition rapidly growing more serious.

Every precaution is being taken said State Sheriff Shanks. My men have been scattered at strategic points including Aberdeen and Milbank while others are riding into the state on freight trains from the south. All have been instructed to be on the watch for agitators and to search suspicious characters for guns. I believe things will go along now without further trouble but if a crisis should come we are ready for it.

GOLDEN VALLEY RANCHER FREED IN HARD FIGHT

Ripple of Applause Starts When Verdict in Bowen Case is Announced

TAYLOR WILL BE TRIED

States Attorney Plans To Put Man Who Did Shooting on Trial in Bismarck

(Special To The Tribune)

Hettinger, N. D., July 20.—D. R. Offley, tried for the murder of M. K. Bowen, Golden Valley county rancher, was found not guilty by the jury which reported at 2 o'clock this morning.

The jury had deliberated on the fate of Offley eight hours after the conclusion of the trial lasting about three weeks. The case was one of the most bitterly contested in the history of the Slope territory.

According to information obtained concerning the deliberations there was no serious difference of opinion among the jurors at any time during their deliberations but they discussed the case at all angles considering the voluminous testimony offered by many witnesses and the charge of Judge H. L. Berry.

Hall Is Jammed

The assembly hall of the high school building where the trial was held was jammed with people waiting to hear the verdict despite the late hour. When the announcement of the verdict was made a ripple of applause was started among the spectators in the court room, but was quickly checked by the court attendants. The verdict of not guilty was generally expected.

Mrs. M. K. Bowen, widow of the slain rancher, was much affected by the verdict. This morning she violently upbraided several members of the jury whom she met on the street applying various epithets to them among others that they were tools of "the business." Mrs. Bowen was led away by friends.

Taylor to Be Tried

E. W. Taylor who also was charged with murder will be tried next, in Burleigh county it was stated by state's attorney. The trial it was said would be at the next regular term of court which is in December. Under the system of rotation Judge J. A. Coffey of Jamestown would preside at this term in Bismarck. Word was received that a special term of district court may be held in Bismarck in October. If this is true Judge Coffey would preside at this term and Judge Nesbitt would preside at the regular December term.

Taylor said on the witness stand that he shot Bowen because if he hadn't he would have killed me Offley, and perhaps all of us, and that he shot and kept shooting until Bowen dropped.

Offley Taylor, Ira J. Stark and G. R. Jeffrey all were charged with the murder of Bowen.

The case aroused interest not only all over the Slope country but over the entire state because it became involved in political discussion.

Bowen had taken up cattle at his Golden Valley ranch which belonged to Offley according to the latter. Testimony adduced at the trial was to the effect that there had been blood between the two ranches. Offley wished to recover his cattle and took two constables with him to replevin them. In the party were Stark, Jeffrey Taylor and Offley. Stark and Jeffrey were constables.

The state charged all four men with the murder. The defense used Taylor's admission that he did the shooting and advanced self-defense in behalf of all four men. Testimony of defense witnesses was to the effect that Bowen went to the barn and got a shotgun after there were words between him and the party and Taylor said that he shot Bowen as the latter was preparing to shoot.

Defense witnesses testified as to threats Bowen was said to have made against Offley. One of the star witnesses of the defense was Sheriff Barclay of Wibaux, Montana, who testified that he heard Bowen utter threats two days before the shooting against any one who tried to get the cattle.

Politics Is Involved

The shooting occurred in July 1919. Martin Black, a Nonpartisan league editor printed violent articles concerning the affair and the Courier News of Fargo took up the case in defense of Bowen and demanding prosecution of the alleged murderers. The controversy waxed warm. Governor Frazier sent state attorney Richard Courtwright and he was reinstated by court order. The Nonpartisan claim was that the murder was the work of anti-Nonpartisan.

Some of the papers were asked about the trial in Hettinger where the trial was held. The papers were asked about the trial in Hettinger where the trial was held. The papers were asked about the trial in Hettinger where the trial was held.

AID DEMANDED FOR ALLIES IN UPPER SILESIA

British, Italian and French Commissioners Send in Report on Situation

SUGGESTS AMERICAN HELP

Paris July 20.—(By the Associated Press)—The British, Italian and French commissioners in Upper Silesia have sent in a report in which they jointly demand that reinforcements be sent to the allied troops of occupation. It was announced here this afternoon.

The recommendation came almost simultaneously of a note by the French foreign office from the British. Great Britain insisted there was no necessity of sending more troops into Upper Silesia. The note was in reply to the recent communication in which the French government notified Great Britain that reinforcement of allied troops of occupation were needed urgently to make sure the troops were not disturbed and to insure respect for the decisions of the allies under the treaty of Versailles.

The British note reiterated the demand of that government for early convening of the allied supreme council. In view of the insistence of the British prime minister, Mr. Lloyd George it is probable that Premier Briand will agree to a meeting of the council about July 27. The council besides dealing with the Silesian question probably will be occupied principally with the question of maintaining of penalties against Germany continued operating of allied forces around Dusseldorf, Duisburg and Ruhrort and a few details concerning execution of the Versailles treaty.

MIGHT ASK U. S. AID

London July 20.—(By the Associated Press)—It was stated in authoritative quarters today that informal suggestions have been made in the British prime minister's office for American intervention in the Upper Silesian trouble which it is feared threatens open hostilities.

BRINGING BACK HERO'S BODY

Ralph McGarvey, Bismarck Boy Slain in World War, To Be Buried Here

The body of Private Ralph McGarvey, a Bismarck boy who sacrificed his life in the World War, is en route from Hoboken, N. J. to Bismarck for interment. The body was brought from the testing place in a French cemetery.

Ralph was born July 19, 1904, when he enlisted served with the 104th engineer with division. He was wounded in action on October 18, 1918, and was the signing of the armistice and died the next day. He was buried in the American cemetery in France.

The body was received from the war department and that the body would be brought to Bismarck for interment. The body will be buried in the American cemetery in Bismarck.

NIP AND TUCK GAME LANDS ON BISMARCK SIDE

Close Contest is Played in Valley
City, Locals Winning
5 to 4

(Special to The Tribune.)
Valley City, N. D., July 19.—It was anybody's game until the last man was out in the Bismarck-Valley City contest here last evening.

Bismarck scored two runs in the fourth on a walk to Wingfield, a single by Ellis and a single by Swartz. Valley City tied the score in the fifth on a single, a couple of walks and a bad throw to first by Taylor on a swinging bunt. Valley City took the lead in the sixth on a home run by Wyatt. Bismarck took the lead again in the seventh on a single by Swartz, a single by Taylor, a walk to Coble and a single by Nichols. Valley City tied the score in her half on a walk, a single, and a sacrifice fly. Bismarck scored again in the eighth on a triple by Collins and a single by Lehman.

The umpiring was good and a nice crowd was out. It was quite a relief to the Bismarck club after spending three days in Fargo.

Manager Joe Collins said his team had been hitting the ball hard but had been hitting them into the hands of fielders and he believed the team was due to get some breaks and start some real hitting by the time of the Minot series in Bismarck Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Bismarck probably will stop in Jamestown on play on Thursday.

Score by innings:
Bismarck ..... 000 200 210—5 9 1
Valley City ..... 000 021 100—4 5 0

Batteries: Taylor and Anderson; Goldsberry and Goff.

CLOSE RACE IN EMMONS LEAGUE

(Special to The Tribune.)
Braddock, N. D., July 19.—Braddock defeated Linton Sunday in a fast and close game of ball by a score of 2 to 1. The pitching of both twirlers deserve much credit with Wurms for Braddock having the edge with 10 strikeouts to his credit and Linton getting but 5 hits.

Fairchild for Linton also held the Braddock sluggers to 5 hits, but only had 3 strikeouts chalked up to his credit.

Leisher on the receiving end for Braddock is showing himself to be a real catcher, catching every man that attempted to steal on him in yesterday's game.

Napoleon was defeated by the Strasburg club 3 to 0 which makes Linton, Braddock, and Strasburg all tied for first place in the Emons County League, and some good games are looked for in the windup series.

HARD WEEK FACES TEAMS

New York, July 19.—A difficult week confronts both the Pittsburgh National League leaders and the Cleveland American world's champions. The Pirates are striving hard to beat off New York, which is three games behind, while Boston, their next opponent is coming after them at high speed. The Indians and the New York Yankees who are beginning to edge away from the other American clubs, start battle Wednesday for top position. The Indians are only one game ahead of New York and have dropped three of their last four contests.

In the National League, Pittsburgh has failed to set the same pace as on its previous eastern invasion. Cooper, the Pirates' star pitcher disposed of Brooklyn and Philadelphia, but was battered out by New York. The Giants, who went ten innings today, before admitting defeat, have won seven of the nine games with the invading western teams. Excellent pitching and timely batting has enabled Boston to take eight games of the nine with the West-erners.

Brooklyn is batting well but the pitchers, including Grimes, the Superba star, are uneasy. Poor pitching is causing St. Louis to drop back. After setbacks in New York and Boston, Chicago hopes to take revenge on the other eastern clubs. The good work of the Cub twirlers early last week was wasted through light hitting.

Cincinnati and Philadelphia are playing an in and out game.

In the American League, Cleveland and New York are the only clubs that have played winning ball in the last three weeks, although the Indians have not batted effectively in the past few days. Both teams displayed some first class pitching last week.

Washington and Detroit have been unable to keep step with the other first division teams. Both the Senators and the Tigers held rather erratic, recently. Boston has shown great improvement since going west. The Red Sox were outplayed by Cleveland only after a hard battle. St. Louis, Chicago and Philadelphia are hitting lightly.

MUSIC TRAINED HIM TO STAR ON TRACK

RAY MOREMEN

By Newspaper Enterprise
Claremont, Calif., July 19.—Ray Moremen, track star at Pomona College, is a musically trained runner.

He has the best form of any miller ever seen on California tracks.

His success is attributed to the rhythm he puts into his long strides. Moremen was a senior and president of the student body this year.

He was one of the best vocalists in school, and is an accomplished pianist and organist.

Even Stride
Rhythm enables him to run four laps of the mile without varying a second from his pace.

His lung and heart power have been developed through his vocal training. His breathing apparatus is always keyed up whether singing or running.

He has run the mile in 4 minutes and 26 seconds.

After finishing school he'll be associated with an athletic club and continue his track work. His ambition is to make the U. S. Olympic team in 1924.

Another Star
Pomona has another remarkable athlete who is expected to figure in future athletic records.

He is Charles Daggs, hurdler. Daggs has a record of 15 seconds flat for the high hurdles and 24 1-5 for the low.

Coaches of the west believe the Pomona hurdler will be a national champion in the low stick event in another year.

He has strong legs and runs with tremendous power.

In the Olympic Games last summer Daggs was a point winner in the 440-yard hurdles.

He has beaten all the hurdlers of the Pacific Coast, including Yount of Redlands and Wells of Stanford.

This year has been his first on college competition.

Western Systems
Pomona College has turned out some crack athletes under the skilled coaching of Eugene White Nixon.

Nixon was formerly an eastern man and has taken the systems of the best coaches west with him.

Each year sees the west graduate more star athletes.

The east no longer has a corner on the stars of track or football.

And Moremen and Daggs in another year will probably help the west pile up more records.

a fellow who has some feeling for his opponent, after he knows he has him trimmed.

ON HIS WAY.
Bob Martin, A. E. F. heavyweight champion, is on his way again.

His knockout of Frank Moran in 7 rounds was the biggest event that ever happened in his young life.

He has knocked out a lot of fellows but they were men of little reputation.

Moran has just returned from England where he kayaked Joe Beckett. Knocking out Beckett isn't much of an accomplishment in itself, but it was Beckett who figured in making Georges Carpentier a "comeback" reputation following the war.

Knocking out one good man does more to make a name for a fighter than a whole string of mediocres.

Martin has been wisely handled by his manager, Jimmy Bronson. It has taken time to bring Fighting Bob up to his present position in the heavyweight ranks.

But Bob has climbed a notch nearer a match with the champion by cooling off Moran.

BIG SUMS ARE PAID INJURED STATE MINERS

Compensation Bureau Completes Awards in a Number of Cases

TOTAL IS OVER $90,000

The Workmen's Compensation Bureau, on July 14, had made final award to 148 coal miners injured in the coal mines of North Dakota. A few of these miners, or their dependents are now on the pension lists of the Compensation Bureau, but most of the awards have been fully paid, and the miners returned to their employment, the bureau announces.

There are a number of those who have been given awards, who are permanently injured and will receive pensions for the remainder of their lives. The total amount of the awards, figuring the pension awards on the basis of the life expectancy of those receiving pensions, is $94,899.22.

The largest awards were on account of the death of Harry Olson of Scranton and the loss of both eyes to Harry C. Peterson of Underwood, and F. A. Dupo of Mellette, and the loss of the right hand of M. D. Webster of Underwood. Harry Olson was killed by coming in contact with a live wire while connecting the electric cable to a cutting machine. He was 28 years old at the time of the accident and left surviving him his wife Esther Olson and two baby daughters. Mrs. Olson receives from the Bureau $16.50 a week, which is paid biweekly, in payments of $33.00. This award, figured on the life expectancy of Mrs. Olson, who was 21 years of age at the time of the accident, will amount to over $29,000.00.

Injured by Dynamite.

Harry Peterson was injured at the Bartley mine near Underwood, by the delayed explosion of a charge of dynamite. He was totally blinded in both eyes, besides being otherwise severely bruised and injured. He was 26 years of age at the time of the accident, and was awarded compensation of $13.34 a week, which will be paid to him during his life, or in case of his death, an award will be made to his widow or dependent children. Figured on the expectancy of Mr. Peterson, the award will amount to $24,416.33. In addition to this, $877.65 has been paid for medical attention, hospital and nurses. The Bureau is allowed, under the law, to make payments either in a lump sum or in pension payments. In the case of Mr. Peterson, they allowed him the lump sum of $1,699.64, which was the present worth of $1.87 a week for the period of his life expectancy, figured at 4 per cent. interest, as provided in the law. The $1.87 is deducted from his weekly award of $13.34, and Mr. Peterson receives the balance, $11.47, a week in biweekly payments of $23.34. The lump sum was given to Mr. Peterson in order that he might buy a small house near Turtle Lake, North Dakota, and have a small balance in the bank to his credit.

Frank Dupo was injured in the Cannon Ball Coal Mine in Hettinger County. Although Mr. Dupo is able to see light with his eyes, he has been allowed compensation for the total loss of both eyes and awarded a pension of $18 per week, which, figured on his life expectancy, totals over $27,000.00.

Fell With Dynamite.

Melvin Webster fell with about one-half a stick of dynamite at the Ed Wagner mine at Underwood, and lost his right hand at the wrist. After the healing of the injured hand, during which period he was paid $93.00 compensation, he was awarded compensation according to the schedule of specific benefits, $14.00 a week for 260 weeks, which would total $3,640.00, making a total award of $3,733.00. Of this $1,652.00 was given him in a lump sum. This is the present worth of $7.00 for 260 weeks. With this he bought a home at Turtle Lake for $950.00 and has a balance of $700 in the bank, and receives $7.00 a week for the period of 260 weeks in biweekly payments of $14.00 each.

GIVES COST OF ICE CREAM SODA

New York, July 20.—The cost of producing ice cream soda is 11-2 cents a glass, a prominent pharmacy stated today in announcing that it could make a reasonable profit by charging the customer 10 cents.

MANDAN NEWS

N. D. FILMS ARE EXHIBITED AT BOYS' SCHOOL

Lorne F. Wilde of the State Immigration Department was in Mandan on Tuesday, bringing with him films illustrative of North Dakota advantages and activities, which were shown at the State Training School to the visiting "Caravan" which stopped here Tuesday evening on their way to New Salem.

These films were shown on the projection machine at the training school through the courtesy of Supt. W. P. McClelland, who also furnished an operator. A two reel picture of live stock industries was perhaps the more interesting, showing among other scenes some of the New Salem Circuit, the livestock parade at the state fair in Fargo and a number of views from the Burnstad ranch.

The other films dealt with Community Life, showing North Dakota recreational features and outdoor playgrounds, lake resorts and so on.

Mr. Wilde has planned on the trip to the New Salem Holstein Circuit for a series of articles in the farm journals. He states that the Immigration Department has been able to get a great deal of desirable publicity through newspaper syndicates. One article alone—that referring to the Shorthorn herd of Aylor of Cass county being repeated in more than 100 publications. This year the department will deal directly along these lines instead of through an agency and the results are expected to be better than ever.

STATE MEETING.

Secretary Sullivan of the Mandan Commercial club is in receipt of a letter from W. R. Richards of Dickinson, who is secretary of the North Dakota Stock Growers association, stating that that organization had decided to hold their meeting at Mandan July 21 and requesting information of a suitable place to hold their sessions. Mr. Sullivan has replied offering the use of the Commercial club rooms which will comfortably accommodate at least 140 persons. It is likely that Mr. Richards may have a conference on arrangements at the New Salem stock show, at which they will both be present.

RETURNS FROM LAKES.

Miss Ruth Nead, who spent her vacation at the lakes near Detroit, Minn., has returned to Mandan. Miss Buelah Sawtell and Miss Lila Peterson, two other members of the party have not yet returned. Miss Sawtell being with friends in Forsythe, and Miss Peterson a guest of relatives in Fargo.

ON DAIRY TOUR.

Professor Sheppard, dean of agriculture at the State College, and Gordon W. Randlett, who is head of the extension division, are among the well known people from the eastern part of the state who are present at the meeting of the Holstein Circuit at New Salem.

BUYING CATTLE.

J. A. Stiles, well known cattle man of the Cannonball country was in Mandan over the week-end. He was accompanied by H. B. Scott, vice president of the Stockyards National bank of St. Paul, who is in this country on a cattle buying expedition.

MOTORS HOME.

Charles P. O'Rourke motored home from St. Paul Sunday after a short visit with Mrs. O'Rourke, who is a patient in St. Joseph's hospital there. Mr. O'Rourke purchased a new Oldsmobile coupe in the Twin Cities.

SISTER ON VISIT.

Mrs. Custer Lang who has been visiting friends and relatives in Aberdeen, S. D., for part of the summer, returned to Mandan Saturday, bringing with her a sister, Miss Justine Jahnle, who will visit in Mandan for a fortnight.

LEAVES FOR WESTERN TRIP.

C. C. McLean, manager of the Russell-Miller Milling Co., left Tuesday morning for a trip to the coast. Mr. McLean will be absent for some weeks, visiting friends and relatives at Portland, Seattle, Vancouver, and other western cities.

CHANGE LUNCHEON.

Due to the fact that the greater number of its members were a part of the Mandan Booster's Caravan to New Salem on Wednesday, the Rotarians held their weekly luncheon on Tuesday rather than Wednesday.

Robert L. Meech, of Minneapolis, treasurer of the Mandan Mercantile Co., who has been on an inspection trip of the yards in this territory returned on Tuesday evening to his home in Minneapolis.

VISITING FRIENDS.

Mrs. L. B. Williams and Miss E. Murray of Buelah, are visiting friends in this city during the first part of the week.

GUESTS IN BISMARCK.

Mrs. C. L. Hoyt and her sister, Mrs. L. R. Porter of Columbus, Ohio, were the guests of Bismarck friends on Tuesday.

ON EASTERN TRIP.

J. W. Hinggen left Monday night for New York and other eastern points on his mid-season buying trip. Mr. Hinggen will be absent for several weeks.

RETURNS FROM CALIFORNIA.

Mrs. Michael J. Tobin has returned from Los Angeles, where she had been called by her mother's illness and death.

MOTOR TO YELLOWSTONE.

H. L. Dahners and family leave Wednesday for a motor trip through the Yellowstone Park region. They will be gone for a fortnight or more.

BUSINESS VISITOR.

C. F. Peterson of New Salem was a business visitor in Mandan and Bismarck on Tuesday.

BISMARCK VISITOR.

Mrs. M. Gradine of Bismarck, was a visitor in Mandan on Monday afternoon.

TRANSACTS BUSINESS.

P. S. Chaffee, well known banker of Buelah, was a Mandan visitor on business matters Monday and Tuesday.

Macadam roads were first constructed in England in 1819.

"Try some of these—they're delicious"

The choice, rich centers of Oriental figs—covered with a delicious cookie!

HOW does that sound? But there's really no need to describe Big Sioux Fig Bars. Everybody knows them—eats them—likes them. And the fact that Manchester uses such rich, clean figs, and the purest ingredients makes Big Sioux Fig Bars the most delicious of all fig cookies. Ask your grocer.

Our GREATEST July Sale

brings such bargains as these!

A thorough clearance of summer merchandise—that is the reason for these July sales. To do it, prices have been further reduced. You can't afford to miss them. Come early and often.

Things of interest around the store

Beads

that add to the summer costume

Sometimes the most effective beads repeat the color in one's dress—sometimes it's better to have a contrast. But well selected beads give tone to a dress that's rather flat without them. Perhaps your dress needs beads—if so you'll find the right ones among our splendid assortment.

New handbags

Not for a long time have we had such a complete and altogether excellent line of handbags and purses, as we have now. The very latest styles in genuine calfskin and pin seal. You'll find them in black, and brown and gray.

Imported organdy at 95c a yard

The loveliest range of colors, if you select now—this is really an unusual value, as it's fine quality Swiss organdy, guaranteed permanent finish. Come in see how lovely they are.

Mesh corsets

Proved so popular that we couldn't keep up with the demand. Now we have a complete assortment of the cool, serviceable corsets. They're here in low and medium bust styles. A very good back lace corset at $1.98.

Ever get an inclination to gamble in stocks? Many do and go broke because they know nothing about stocks.

They might be saved from this if the schools had taught them as much about exchanges as about "omnis Gallia" and isosceles triangles.

REMARKABLE
Airplanes, using bombs, are sinking warships in tests off Cape Charles, Va.
Observers pronounce them remarkable exhibitions.
They are—that civilization has progressed no further than to make such destruction of property necessary to national preservation.

MEXICO
President Obregon, in explaining why he hasn't agreed to the strict letter of the terms submitted by Secretary Hughes, says:
"There are certain things which a country may not do without the surrender of sovereignty and self-respect. There are certain constitutional limits to the power of the president of Mexico."
Sounds as though Alvaro had been reading the Senate debates on the League of Nations.

AVIATORS
Since armistice day 251 American aviators have been killed in flight. For them there was not the glory that crowns the warrior who dies in battle. They went ahead, did each day's dangerous round of duty and they died doing the day's work.

And, in our opinion, the sacrifice of the fellow who thus gives his life while doing his job as best he knows, is no less to be honored than the sacrifice of him who laid down his life in the zeal, inspiration and glamor of battle.
They are the Heroes of the Daily Task.

KITTY'S RIGHT
A cat's right to look at a king was long ago recognized. Now, a cat's right to use her claws in a cat and dog fight is established by the Supreme Court of Massachusetts.
Mrs. Fannie F. Goodwin sued a grocery house because she was scratched while trying to protect her pet dog from the grocery cat.
The court held that it was up to the dog to look out for himself, and that his owner could collect no damages because she "voluntarily exposed herself."

ADS
Americans bathe more often than any other people, and Saturday is no longer the one universal day for bathing, says a Chicago advertising expert. Why? Americans have been trained to bathe frequently by the relentless propaganda of soap advertisements, he explains.
You may be one of those who like to say you are never influenced by advertisements. But the fact is that the furnishings in your home, the cereals you eat for breakfast, the styles your wife wears, the phonograph that entertains you in the evening, were all largely determined for you by newspaper advertisements. Think it over.

KISSING
The Methodist Central Sabbath Crusade Committee is planning to petition Congress to enact Sunday observance laws that, among other things, will prohibit trains from running on the Sabbath.
The proposed laws, Noah W. Cooper, chairman of the committee, says, would not interfere with innocent pleasures, "such as a man kissing his wife."
What we could never understand is why there is so much less kissing after marriage than there was before. Isn't she the same girl? Aren't they the same lips?

The mystery puzzles no less a person than the Rev. Billy Sunday, who says: "When you go home tonight, surprise your wife by kissing her."
IRELAND
"Peace for Irish" is a newspaper headline. It is based upon Lloyd George's invitation to De Valera, president of the Irish Republic, and Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, to meet him in conference and try to work out a solution of the Irish problem.

As Mark Twain would say, the headline is a trifle premature, but there is little doubt that events are moving rapidly in the British Isles toward a crisis in the Irish situation, which will mean peace or more bitter warfare than ever.
That it will be peace and a settlement based on justice for all concerned should be the prayer of America.
What glorious news it would be, that the many bloody tragedies which for centuries have marked the struggle for Irish independence are at an end.

HEROISM
Dr. J. H. Hartwell, of Philadelphia, cut his own hand slightly while operating for appendicitis. He could have suspended the operation to save himself. But that would have increased the danger to his patient. He didn't—a week later he died of blood poisoning.
The medical profession has to its honor a long list of such sacrifices to duty.

WHY YOU LIVE
Sometimes you wonder what the purpose is in making you live this life. You meditate: "What is it all about, this thing we call life? What is man? What am I? What is my present existence here on earth a preparation for?"
An answer to these questions is attempted in a new theory, discussion of which is eclipsing Einstein in the scientific world.

The theory is called "time-binding." Its author is Count Alfred Korzybski, Polish nobleman, who explains it in his new book, "Manhood of Humanity."
Plants have only one purpose—to take energy from the sun and convert it into chemical energy. Plants can't move about.

Animals eat the plants and, while they can move about in space at will, they also are space-bound. But man is not caged by space. He moves in time, hence he is time-bound. That is, what you do now exerts a definite influence on things that will happen after you are materially dead. Like Elias Howe, who, by inventing the sewing machine, started something that gave him tremendous influence after his death.

No horse knows that his ancestors were as small as cats. No horse is making plans for the future conditions of horses. That's because horses, like all plants and animals, are space-bound.
Prehistoric bees did their work exactly the same way as bees of today. No expert bee passed on to future generations any discoveries about how to make more honey in less time. Bees, like all animals and plants, are space-bound—concerned only with the present, ignorant of the past, oblivious to the future.
Man, however, has the time-binding power which frees him from space. Ever he has sought, learned and passed on to posterity ways of getting results in less time.
Most of the material wealth now existing in the world is not the product of the toil of those now living. It is a gift from the dead—and this is as true of organized society and efficient methods of doing things as it is true of physical gifts from past generations—such as clearing timber land for farms or building railroads.
Man records history, acquires wisdom, makes progress and creates material and spiritual wealth to be passed on to future generations.
Animals cannot do this, Korzybski points out. Hence man is not an animal.
He has conquered space-bound nature. He has the power of time-binding—the ability to use the present as a link to bind the past to the future.
Obviously, then, the function of every man and woman—including yourself—is service to humanity for the present and for all time, not merely a matter of personal or present gain like space-bound animals.

FOREIGN LOAN POWER FOR MELLON
The power which Secretary Mellon wants from congress in the matter of our ten billions of dollars of war loans to foreign governments is to separate the sheep from the goats and to treat the sheep as sheep and the goats as goats. He ought to have it at once.
Some of these debts, and by far the greater part of them, are as good as gold, though not so immediately negotiable. Some of them are not worth the powder to blow them up.
Secretary Mellon, a business man of sound judgment, a banker of deep penetration and a government official of large responsibility, will make an arrangement for the refunding and repayment of Great Britain's borrowing from our treasury such as one solvent, rich and powerful banking institution might make with another. He will do a similar thing with France and Italy, giving due consideration to their circumstances and prospects.
But neither Secretary Mellon nor congress can get out of an insolvent and poverty stricken debtor what is not now there to get and what is not going to be there in the future to get. He will make the best terms with such a debtor he can make.
Give Secretary Mellon all the power he needs to clean up the foreign loan muddle as he best may be able to clean it up.—New York Herald.

FIELD NATURALIST DISCUSSES THE AGITATION AGAINST VIVISECTION

Ernest Harold Baynes, a prominent field naturalist has written a most interesting and vivid article answering the charges of the anti-vivisectionists who are attempting to get legislation against the practice of vivisection by doctors in research work.
The opponents of vivisection base their whole campaign on two propositions:
1. That animals are ruthlessly tortured in the laboratories to gratify the curiosity of heartless doctors who gloat over the agony of their helpless victims. (This is not an exaggerated statement of their case.)
2. That no benefit to mankind or to animals has ever been derived from vivisection.
Again, if these propositions are true—if they are even approximately true—you and I, and all the decent people we know should join hands in driving vivisection from every state in the Union.
Let us see if they are true. Let me take them up one at a time.
Before 1846, practically all surgery, whether on human beings or animals, was painful, because no effective anesthetic was known. Vivisection was done in those days, and of course the animals suffered. But even then the surgeons were not trying to torture animals, they were seeking newer and safer ways of performing operations—more light on the functions of the various organs of the body with a view to advancing medical science for the benefit of man. And that they did so advance their science is a matter of history. To mention only one advance they made, Harvey, according to his own testimony, discovered the circulation of the blood through vivisection.
In answer to the first part Mr. Baynes says that an occasional heartless doctor can be found and then gives as examples Mantegazza, Magendie, Brucher and Claude Bernard, but he also proves that these cases of this kind happened from fifty to a hundred years ago. He tells of numerous unheralded visits of his in different hospitals where they were operating on animals and he does not record one instance of cruelty. Mr. Baynes, in his article continues, "I do not say there is no suffering in research laboratories, because there is. Perhaps two or three per cent of the animals used suffer more or less actual pain; many more suffer some discomfort, but it is so little compared with the pain and discomfort from which human beings and animals are saved by these experiments that it becomes insignificant."
Instead of the "brutality and heartlessness" I have read about, I found nothing but kindness and consideration. A few days ago I was in a laboratory of a great cancer hospital in Buffalo, New York. On the door of the operating-room was posted a set of rules which I would like to give in full. As space will not permit this I will quote from two or three.
I. Vagrant dogs and cats brought to this laboratory and purchased here shall be held at least as long as at the city pound, and shall be returned to their owners if claimed and identified.
II. Animals in the laboratory shall receive every consideration for their bodily comfort. They shall be kindly treated, properly fed, and their surroundings kept in the best possible sanitary condition.
III. In any operation likely to cause greater discomfort than that of general anesthesia, the animal shall first be rendered insensible by means of a gas, and shall be maintained in that condition until the operation is ended. Exceptions to this rule will be made by the director alone, and then only when anesthesia would defeat the object of the experiment.
These rules imposed by the doctors themselves, are posted in practically every laboratory in the country and are conscientiously lived up to.
At Johns Hopkins University, where I went last week, and where many dogs are kept for experimental purposes, there is a sign in the Hunterian Laboratory, which reads "Any attendant who strikes a dog is to be discharged at once."
Even were the surgeons as heartless as we have been led to believe—a preposterous thought—they would still give the animals every care, for the selfish reason that their own success depends on it. If you have ever tried to hold even a small dog or cat which has made up its mind to get away from you, you will realize how absurd it would be to try to perform a delicate surgical operation on that animal, no matter how securely he might be tied, unless he were first rendered insensible by anesthesia. For the same reason, even a heartless doctor would see to it that an animal was well taken care of both before and after an operation, because neglect would militate against the success of the experiment.
In answer to the second contention of the anti-vivisectionists, that no benefit to mankind or to animals has ever been derived from vivisection Mr. Baynes cites as proof the relief from suffering with diphtheria. In this connection he tells of the former suffering when people died of actual stranguation whereas now the use of the diphtheria antitoxin leads to a speedy recovery. Another important discovery through vivisection was the typhoid vaccine that later saved thousands of lives. During the Spanish-American war it was the cause of six times as many deaths as all the other causes put together while in the World War there was practically no typhoid fever.

In the same manner Mr. Baynes proves how vivisection has done away with suffering and large numbers of deaths from childhood fever and yellow fever. He concludes his discussion on the subject with "compound fractures used to kill two out of every three patients—over sixty-six per cent; today the mortality from this cause is well below one per cent. This saving of life was brought about by animal experimentation."
The same may be said of surgery of the chest, surgery of the head, indeed, surgery of every kind.
The whole question is one of proportion. All history will bear me out when I say that no bodily sacrifice, whether of animals or of men, is too great to be made, provided the cause for that sacrifice is proportionately great.

Mr. Baynes' article closes with the following example of a doctor who killed three of his faithful dogs to keep himself warm and he asks if this were more justifiable than the process of vivisection.
It has always been an axiom that a man's life is of greater consequence than an animal's life.
When Doctor Grenfell was about on an ice pan, and killed three of his faithful dogs that he might get their skins to keep himself from freezing, the world applauded him for the brave, resourceful man he is. It was considered better that they should suffer and die than that he should suffer and die.

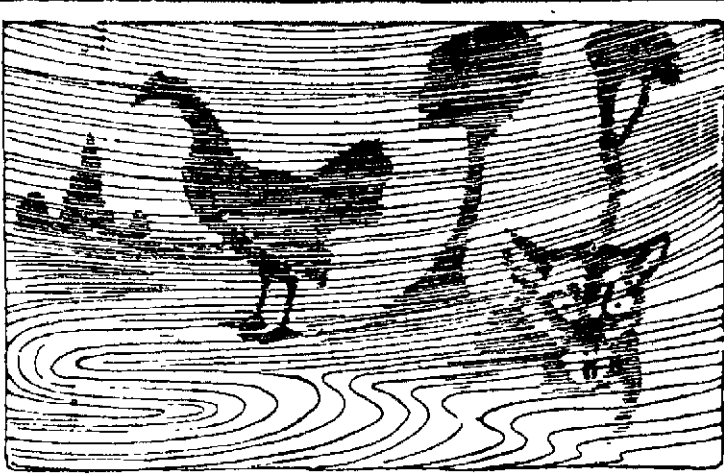

He was not hardened by causing that suffering; he was touched with gratitude. He has a tablet erected to the memory of those splendid dogs, and the names of Moody, Watch and Spy will go down in history with that of Grenfell himself and the other heroes of the Labrador.
Yet I know that Doctor Grenfell will not misunderstand me when I say that the killing of those dogs was selfishness, personified when compared with the work of the vivisectionists. He killed three dogs, his personal friends, to save one life—his own. The vivisectionists take no such toll as that. For every animal they cause to suffer and die, they save unnumbered human beings from suffering and death. As I have said, the question is one of proportion. The greater the cause, the greater the sacrifice which it justifies.

The White House was so called because of white free stone?
The site was selected by President Washington and Major Peter Charles L'Enfant, city planner, in 1791?
The architect was James Hoban, of Duplin?
The plans were chosen by competition?
The cornerstone was laid Oct. 13, 1792?
The first occupants were President and Mrs. John Adams in November, 1800?
The White House was burned by the British in 1814?
It was first heated by gas in 1848?
System of Heating and ventilation was installed in 1853?
The original cost of the White House was defrayed out of the sale of lands donated by Maryland and Virginia?

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM
Bankrupt
Oh, I once owned a Castle in Spain,
Where, some time, I dreamed I would reign.
And laugh, love, and play
In a glorious way.
Afar from life's stresses and strain
But now it is wholly in vain
That I think of it, over the main;
My vision is lost
For I find, to my cost
I have mortgaged my Castle in Spain!
For a matter of profit and gain,
For triumphs that burned in my brain,
For workaday schemes,
I have bartered the dreams
That builded my Castle in Spain.
And now that my youth's on the wane,
I learn, to my bitterest pain,
As indebtedness grows
That the fates must foreclose
On my beautiful Castle in Spain.
So the lesson, too late, is made plain,
That my vision of wonder is slain;
I can nevermore fare
To my haven out there—
Since I've mortgaged my Castle in Spain!

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
By Olive Barton Roberts

Biddy was as completely lost as the Babes-in-the-Wood.
"Well, well, well," chuckled Fleet Fox to himself when he saw a dark, indistinct figure fly up into the little plum tree again, Biddy Bantam has come back! I thought that I had lost her for good. Isn't it a good thing this fox came along to hide me just when it did!"
He never dreamed that Biddy was staggering around in the thick fog and yards away hunting for her nest out in the hay stack Biddy was as completely lost as were the Babes-in-the-Wood and she bumped into logs and stones this way and that like a crazy person poor thing. She was getting crosser and crosser by the minute and talked to herself about what she thought of foxes and what she thought of a certain fair weather man by the name of Sprinkle-Blow who would permit such things. I'd hate to tell you. It wasn't at all complimentary. She got madder still when she found that she couldn't even find her way back to the plum tree. "Do you suppose I'll have to sleep on the ground?" she scolded. Nine state of affairs. I call it!"

"Little did she suspect that that very fox was saving her life. That a fierce, reddish-brown creature without any ill will, as for over forty years it has been right under her roosting place waiting for her. That's the way it is. People scold at troubles, or what they think are troubles when all the time they are blessings in disguise."
Up in the plum tree Chris Crow who had lost his way in the fog chasing little Cutie Cottontail, never once thought of looking down. He was thinking, "Now which way do you suppose that sass-patch garden is? That's where Cutie's gone. I know." Just then something grabbed him (To Be Continued.)

BLUE SAYS HE NEVER SAW HER LOOKING BETTER

S. Dakota Man Is Willing To Go On Record As Endorsing Tanlac
"I wouldn't take the best farm in South Dakota for what the good Tanlac has done my wife," said R. Blue, retired farmer living at 204 East Sixth St., Mitchell, S. D.
"I never saw anything to equal the way this medicine built her up. For two years she had been having stomach trouble of the worst sort, was not able to eat anything to speak of and just suffered misery from indigestion. She was so nervous and restless she couldn't get the sleep she needed and I could see she was going down hill every day."
"I can vouch for the fact that Tanlac has made her just like a different person. She has a splendid appetite now and everything she eats agrees with her. I don't believe I ever saw her looking any better than she does right now. Why, she is the very picture of health. After seeing what Tanlac did for her I am willing to go on record in black and white as endorsing it. It certainly does everything that is claimed for it."

NESTOS HEADS COMPANY
Velva, July 19.—At the annual meeting of the Velva Coal Products Co., R. A. Nestos of Minot, John Steen of Bismarck, T. Welo, N. M. Maus, L. L. Berge and J. W. Bliss of Velva were elected directors. Albert Dickinson of Velva was also elected director to take the place of Col. Frank White of Valley City whose position as United States treasurer bars him from serving. The board organized by the election of R. A. Nestos of Minot, president; T. Welo of Velva, vice president; J. W. Bliss of Velva, secretary and general manager, and A. E. Savard of Velva treasurer.
The company now has under option 800 acres of coal land southwest of Velva. Engineers estimate that there are 9,000,000 tons of recoverable coal in this land. With an annual maximum production of 300,000 tons a year it will take 30 years to exhaust the coal supply on this land.

HEAR THOMSON'S SHORT-AGE, OVER A MILLION

generous contributor to church and civic enterprises.
Every one liked "Cy" Thomson for his genial ways. They could not understand, some of them, where he got his money, but they did not question that too minutely.
Arrangements were under way to repair the old Thomson homestead, where Thomson was born, when the news of the defalcation became public. The former packing company official was born near Leroy, a town a few miles from Austin that has much for which to thank him. As an instance of the remarkable sense of values in advertising which Thomson possessed, there is the case of his home town. Leroy, Thomson thought, did not have the right public spirit in keeping up appearances. Windows in some of its buildings were out. A few barns were leaning over as if they were about to collapse. Some of the streets were unsightly.
Knew How To Advertise
Thomson hired an artist of real ability to come to Leroy. At the same time he employed a photographer. Pictures of dilapidated structures were published for several weeks in full page advertisements in the Leroy Independent. The villagers were incensed, but their wrath was turned to chagrin when the pictures painted by the artist next appeared in the local paper "ads". The picture showed how Leroy might look if it were "colored up." Today Leroy is a credit to itself as a result of Thomson's efforts.
An uncongenial job right now is that of being prosecuting attorney in Austin. It has fallen by virtue of his office to County Attorney Otto Baudler and, in the performance of his duties, it will be necessary for him to oppose hopes and sentiments of the many persons who are "wishing Cy well." Baudler has faith that a fair-minded attitude ultimately will prevail, but in the meantime he mimes no words with what he calls "sentimentality."

How Prosecutor Views It.
"When crime is cleverly put over some men are inclined to think lightly of the offense or even consider it praiseworthy," he said. "You hear them say, 'I give him credit for getting by with it.' I wouldn't like such men on a jury."
A "prince" as a friend, Cy was little less than a fairy benevolence as a relative. To be his cousin was to be blessed. It is recounted. Born at Leroy, the village which he showered with benefactions, he was the son of a cattle dealer. His father bought live stock in the community and when the infant Hormel packing plant began to grow in strength, he did much of his trading with the institution in which his son later distinguished himself. The elder Thomson died a decade ago. The aged mother of Austin's "mirac" man lives here.
His "Estate" Was $1,500
When his father died "Cy" came into an estate of $1,500. An American of English descent, Thomson gave many indications of British fealty to home and family. For one of his two sisters he purchased a home. He warded off distress for a family when a brother-in-law, who was a brakeman on the St. Paul road, was severely injured in an accident at Farmington two years ago.

SUPERINTENDENT RESIGNS
Jamestown, N. D., July 19.-Wm. B. Grobe, for the last 30 years a resident of Stutsman county, has resigned as superintendent of the Occident Elevator company with headquarters at Jamestown, a position he has held the last 12 years, and has accepted a position as general manager of the Imperial Elevator company of Minneapolis. He has assumed his duties there, and will be joined soon by his family.
Prosper Naze, who has been connected with the Occident Elevator company for 18 years will succeed Mr. Grobe.
Joseph Naze will take the position as local manager of the Occident Elevator in Jamestown.

LEGION OFFICER KNOWS NAVY

Edward Spafford, Chairman of Committee on Naval Affairs, Has Climbed the Ladder.

Edward Elwell Spafford, newly appointed chairman of the American Legion's committee on naval affairs, knows the United States navy on land and on sea as few other men do.

Born in Springfield, Vt., Mr. Spafford was educated in the public schools. He received an appointment to the United States Naval academy in 1901. Assigned to the ship Washington, he became gunnery officer; at that time he was the youngest officer in the navy to hold this position.

While the Washington was lying off Cape Hatteras a sailor was washed overboard in a heavy sea. Risking his life in the waves, Mr. Spafford plunged overboard and succeeded in rescuing the seaman. His bravery was recognized in a letter of commendation from the secretary of the navy. He rose to the rank of lieutenant commander.

In 1914 Mr. Spafford resigned from the navy to study law at Columbia university.

With the start of the war Mr. Spafford offered his services to his country and he was made a lieutenant commander in the navy reserve corps. He served for a time as a member of the board of inspection and survey, which was in charge of the selection of ships to be purchased by the government. He directed the fitting out of the first 25 110-foot submarine chasers built for distance service and established a submarine chaser base at New London, Conn.

When the American navy became active in the Straits of Otranto, Mr. Spafford was sent to establish a submarine chaser base at Corfu, Greece, and later became chief of staff of that station. He was in charge of all operations and was on the first American submarine chaser which destroyed an enemy ship after locating it by the process of sound contact.

When the Austrians surrendered two battleships and two destroyers to the United States, Lieutenant Commander Spafford took them over. Later, he investigated the situation along the Dalmatian coast and made a special report on Fiume to the American peace delegation at Paris. He received the Distinguished Service Medal. Mr. Spafford is a member of Manhattan naval post of the American Legion in New York city.

SAYS NO MAN HER SUPERIOR

Bright-Eyed Sergeant and Vice Commander of Post Bluffed Mr. Silver-Eagles.

Who else but a bright-eyed, smiling American girl could have gotten away with it?

Sergeant Minnie Arthur of the United States marine corps was on duty in a recruiting office in Indianapolis, Ind., during the war. The major in charge was nervous; a colonel from Washington was coming to inspect; everyone brushed up on rules of military conduct. In walked the austere colonel, Sergeant Arthur remained working at her desk. Silver-Eagles walked over to her desk and frowned.

"Un-ever got up when an officer comes in the room, sergeant?" he growled.

"Yes, sir, sometimes," Miss Three Stripes replied.

"Un- and I suppose you salute your superiors, too, eh?"

Serg. art Arthur smiled sweetly- and then her eyes snapped.

"Sir, I've never seen a man yet who was my superior!"

And the colonel passed it off with-out a reprimand.

Miss Arthur, now vice-commander of Robert E. Kennington post of the American Legion in Indianapolis, enlisted for four years and served 18 months. She is still in the reserve, drawing $1 a month with which she buys hair nets. She is authority on Librarian golf and plays a good hand at "blackjack."

On the Square.
"We had quite a game up to the boarding house last night."

"Poker?"

"No. The landlady was going to lick one of the boys for not paying his board. I tried to check her, she jumped me, crowned him and told us both to move."

"Did you do it?"
